WILL SHIP ALL FUEL SUPPLY FROM MINE TO MILL BY WATER

Carnegie Company Preparing to Extend Its River Operations

DOWN OHIO TO MINGO JUNCTION

It was rumored in coal circles a few days ago that the Carnegie Steel Company will, before the end of the next year, ship coal from its mines on the Monongahela river to Mingo Junction by water and then re-ship to its plants at Bellaire and Mingo. It is expected that by that time the company will have 12 steamers in commission, five of which are under construction now, two of which will be ready for the trade by July 1st, and it is proposed to relaase a boat every month after that date. It also was said that there is a possibility that thecoal will be shipped by river and then by rail to Youngstown.

It is known that the Carnegie Steel company as well as other large industrial corporations, are preparing to utilize the benefits of the Monongahela river to the fullest extent in the transportation of coal wihin the next few years. A visitor in Charleroi a few days ago from Republic, known as the "Hub of the Klondike," said that several hundred bee-hive type of ecke ovens had been put out of blast recently and indications were that they would never again be placed in operation. Moreover it is intimated that further construction of this type of oven is about at an end, and that comparatively little if any more will be made in the famous Connellsville region after the present ovens are put out of commission. Arrangements are being made to ship all coal by river from the upper reaches of theriver, and this will include the production of mines several miles from theriver, theoutput to be sent to Clairton and other points where by-product ovens are in operation.

The Carnegie Steel Company is evidently preparing for a radical change in the management of its fuel supply, and hereafter will conserve all of the products of the coal which in thepast has been largely destroyed.

BIG SIGN FLASHES FOR "500 CLUB"

The big electric sign on the hilltop opposite Charleroi last night flashed out the admonition, "Join the Five Hundred Club." Other changes for the benefit of thelocal campaign may be made during the coming week, as it is interchangeable and new signs can be installed on short notice. When this sign is completed it will automatically change fifty times in one night, and is the only electric sign of the kind in the country.

The members will go down on the Fairmont express, leaving here at 7.01, and special orders will be given to have the train stop at that point. Three lodges from that section, Clairton, Elizabeth and West Elizabeth will attend this meeting which is expected to be one of the largest assemblages of Odd Fellows which has occurred in that town.

15TH IS EXPECTED ON MONDAY NEXT

Mrs. John N. O'Neil received a telephone message Friday evening from Roy D. Schooley, secretary of Mayor Babcock's reception committee of Pittsburg, stating that the Fifteenth Engineers were sceduled to leave Camp Upton, Long Island, within 72 hours. If this proves correct it is expected the Engineers will leave New York not later than Sunday night to arrive in Pittsburg on Monday for the big reception awaiting the "Pittsburg Pioneers." Mrs. O'Neil went to Pittsburg today to assist in completing arrangements for the entertainment which is being prepared for the men of this regiment.

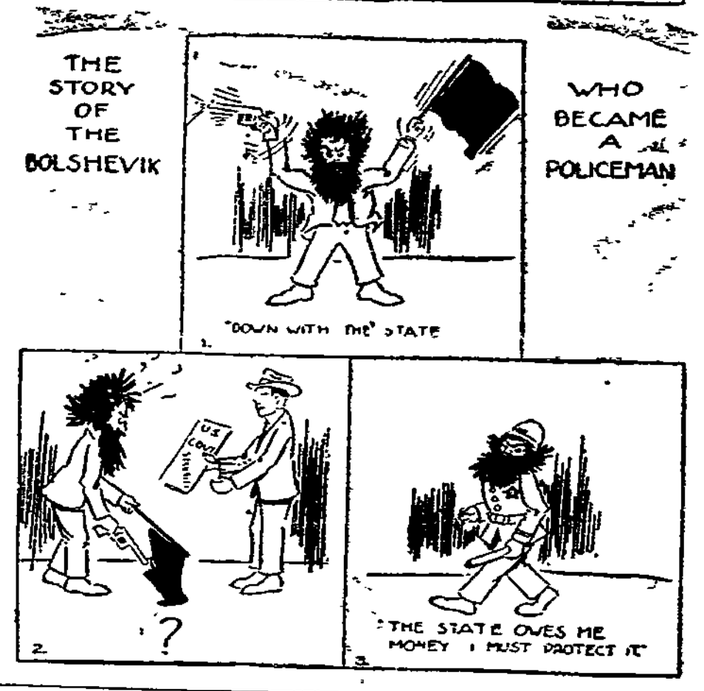
NOTE the Moral



HELP RAISE THE BARN

Plenty of barn cupacity is indispensable to the successful farmer. He must have ample storage room for his crops, plenty of stable space for his live stock, no skimping of loft room for his hay! He must be able to care efficiently for the products of his acres. It's what he saves that counts.

The farmer with the biggest barn usually has the biggest bank account.

Usually is the fellow who can best afford to hold his products until the market is right, the prices best. Usually knows from experience how to take full advantage of his chances.

Right now Uncle Sam needs barn more room. Needs it badly. Finds it is imperative to his making the most of his opportunities.

Today we are all invited to his national barnraising, the Victory-Liberty Loan.

In this barn Uncle Sam expects to house a lot of his troubles. He will be able to take care of the outstanding munitions bills and thus clean up the annoying condition with the withering industries. He will be able to bring back his boys from overseas and cure the thousands who are suffering from wounds, and shell shock and exposure; put them on their feet, rehabilitate them. Will be able to finish his shipbuilding and make sure that the products of America in the next decade may be quickly transported to the foreign markets.

He will be able to corral prosperity and keep him on exhibition, well fed and well housed, for years to come.

And if there's a man in the crowd that doesn't want to see prosperity taken captive and held by Uncle Sam let him raise his hand.

That fellow needn't go to the barn raising.

But everyone elso had better be there. Helping raise the framework.

Mr. Farmer and his sons will be on the job. Mr. Banker and his clerks are all going. Mr. Captain of Industry and his employees will be on hand. And old General Business and his army of workers will stage a parade.

It's going to be some occasion for all of us.

Big Display of Relics From French Battlefields

Mrs. Joseph Lichter on Friday received a large consignment of relics from the battlefields of France and which had been sent to her by her brother, Lieut. Harry L. Cooper of the United States Naval Reserves and who is now a paymaster in the Navy serving on the United States steamer Isonzio.

The mementos of the great war were shipped in a large packing case and included five German rifles of different designs, a complete German machine gun together with a belt filled with cartridges, a cartridge belt filled with clips, two German and one French helmet, a breast plate, a number of sword bayonets showing different designs, some brass shell cases, as well as shells of-the smaller sizes.

Lieut Cooper had secured these relics while in France and were part of the large assortment he was able to secure while in service. They are now on display in the show window of the Southern Furniture Company, Fallowfield avenue, and are attracting a great deal of attention from passers-by.

VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN IS AWAY BEHIND THE SCHEDULE

Greater Activity Is Necessary to Reach Charleroi's Quota

COMMITTEE OF 70 APPOINTED

The Victory Liberty loan in Charleroi is lagging to use a very mild term. It is also away behind schedule in Washington county. The county quota is $7,098.400 but up until Friday evening only $2,000,000 of this amount had been officially reported to the banks. This means that over five million dollars of sales must be made in the closing week of the campaign. In order to reach these figures Charleroi must do its share. The answer is up to the people.

Friday evening Chairman Berryman in connection with County Chairman Daly and all chairmen of the local committees, held a meeting at headquarters at which time plans were formulated to "finish the job." A Committee of Seventy has been appointed, in which all but two had accepted up until this morning, to give up as much of their time as necessary durng the coming week to make a personal solicitation throughout the community to secure subscriptions to the Victory Loan.

Chairman Berryman emphasizes the fact that every one of us should be 100 per cent American. If we have subscribed to all previous Liberty Loans, the thing to do is to subscribe for the Victory Liberty loan and thus qualify as One Hundred Per cent.

Platform meetings will be held at [illegible] coming week at [illegible] demonstrations to be arranged for. Boys home from overseas will be invited to speak and this is expected to bring out large assemblies each night.

Another feature to stimulate the campaign is the activity of the Boy Scouts. They began canvassing today and will keep it up until the close of the campaign. Each Scout securing ten subscriptions w ill receive a medal Those contemplating joining the "500 Club" can help the Scouts by splitting their subscription into ten parts and giving it to one or more members of the Troop.

Tomorrow, Sunday, has been designated as Victory Liberty Sunday and all the ministers are expected to say something about the present loan. There may be additional speakers, but that is a matter to be arranged later.

The local committee realizes the absolute necessity of more activity in the present campaign. It is true the slump is not local—the same condition exists all over thecountry, but this is no reason w hy the loan should fail. The bonds are the best security on earth—and the best investment it is possible to make. A man with any money can m ake no mistake in subscribing to the limit, while wage earners can adopt no better method of saving their money.

The boys in France finished their job—it isthe duty of the people who remained at home to finish theirs.

COMMITTEE WILL SELECT NEW PRINCIPAL

A committee from the Board of Trustee of the California Normal, composed of J. E. Masters, President of the Board, Senator Joseph A. Herron of Monongahela and Dr. Wilbur Lilley of California, has been appointed to select a new principal for the Normal School to succeed Dr. Hertzog. The Board meets the first Thursday of each month and it is expected that a successor will be selected within the next month.

IMPERIAL COMBINES WITH FLACCUS CO.

H. J. Booth and family moved today to Pittsburg and will occupy a new home at 1675 Beechwood Boulevard. Some changes of a business character also will keep Mr. Booth out of Charleroi a great deal, although he will travel back and forth several times each week in looking after the interests of the Imhperial Glass Co. This company, by the way, has been consolidated with the C. L. Flaccus Glass Company, whose plant and main offices are at Tarentum, from which point the business interests of both factories will be directed. The flint tank of the local factory will be shut down and about fifty expert workmen of the Imperial Glass company will go to Tarentum to work, their families in all probability leaving here some time later in the [illegible] town, to make their home there. The amber tank at thelocal factory will be continued.

CORPORAL YORK

The story of Corporal York under the title, "The Second Elder Gives Battle," in the Saturday Evening Post of April 26 reads like an incredible yarn of deliberate manufacture, but the facts appeared in the Government's Official Bulletin several weeks ago, together with General Pershing's recommendation of a medal of honor from Congress. So there would be no room for doubt even if the author of the article referred to did not amply cite his authorities. On October 8, 1918, Corporal York of Company G, 328th Infantry, killed twenty-odd Germans, captured 132 prisoners, including a major and three lieutenants, put 35 machine guns out of business, and thus broke up an entire battalion. There were seven American privates supporting him, but they had to guard the prisoners first taken and it was York alone who defeated the machine gun battalion with his rifle and automatic pistol. Kneeling in the brush of the Argonne forest and firing rapidly at close range, York potted an enemy at every shot and did it as coolly as if he were shooting turkeys in his native Tennessee mountain country. His continuing fire was so badly that the Huns scared stiff, surrounded in a body and 132 of them allowed York and the survivors of his little band of seven to march them over a long trail through the woods under fire until they were safe behind the American lines.

Born in Pall Mall, Tenn., Corporal York had a woodsman's training, was an expert rifleman, and had seen a few "fights" in his wild youth, but he had never taken any part in those mountain feuds which are more frequent and deadly in the pages of fiction than in real life. Before he was drafted he had turned from the "wildness" of his earlier youth and joined the church—the Church of Christ called "Carpbellite" from its founder, a sect opposed to war. York could have escaped the draft as a conscientious objector, but did not do so. Greatly troubled in mind, he searched the Bible and finally became convinced that there are times when it is necessary to fight and go to war. Though only 31 at the time of his great exploit, he was an elder in his church. When urged by another elder to claim exemption he once asked: "If some feller was to comealong and bust into your house and mistreat your wife and murder your children maybe, you'd just stand for it? You wouldn't fight?" The other elder looked down and "kind of studied a while," then answered: "No—I believe I'd kill him." So York went to the war, and, in the language of the street, he "sure is some fighter."

THE BRITISH EMBARGO

Philip B. Kennedy, commercial attache, who has recently returned from England, predicts that the British embargo on imports would come up for review on September 1. "The reason given for the imposition of import restrictions at this time is that it is necessary to assist in maintaining the exchange position and also to protect British manufacturers during the period when foreign trade is reviving," declares Mr. Kennedy. "With pounds sterling at a discount as compared with the dollar, the effect is that it costs more in terms of sterling to buy American goods," he [illegible] "This will automatically [illegible] the effect of increasing Ameri- [illegible] decreasing Ameri- [illegible] also make Brit- [illegible] United States low- [illegible] to increase the ex- [illegible] of British goods to the United States."

[illegible] subscribing to the [illegible] representation is the [illegible] of interest the United [illegible] going under a [illegible] which actually sup- [illegible] Britain in trade strategy [illegible] to the interests of the nation. It is to be borne in mind that certainly by September 1, and probably before that date, Great Britain will have radically changed her tariff policy and there is every indication that she proposes to return to the protective principle. Bonar Law, the government leader in the House of Commons, has intimated as much, and he has assured to the British colonies preferential treatment in the British market, while they are likewise contemplating tariff revisions upward with provisions for preferential treatment of English goods in their markets.

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG

Though he was 85 on April 23, ex-Senator Chauncey M. Depew is reported to be still genial as well as still youthful. "How does he do it?" the man who lets himself grow old at sixty may well ask. He certainly took no dip in Ponce de Leon's fountain, for that fabled well of eternal youth has never been found. Yet his discovery of some part of the secret is manifest. His own simple formula given several years ago reads as follows:

"Keep in touch with the young. Join in their games be a feature in the dance romp the fastest and turn the quickest in the Virginia reel or the country dance go up to the old college and light your pipe and sing college songs take your children to the theatre and howl with them at the roaring farce and laugh with them at the comedy and cry with them at the tragedy be their confident in their love affairs, and if they are not equal to it, write their love letters and never stop writing some for yourself. Thus will the twentieth century welcome us older fellows as the youngest and most vigorous of those who are to solve its problems and make its record."

If Mr. Depew keeps it up, he may see the day when he will have to cut out one item from this pleasant program at the command of triumphant anti-tobacco reformers. Yet we may rest assured that so cheerful a philosopher will be able to survive even the loss of his friendly pipe.

MORE REFORM SPELLING

The Simplified Spelling Board, after resting up during the war period has returned to the attack with increased determination. It boasts that the twelve clipped and shorn words it recommended 13 years ago have made great progress, no less than 500 publications, 19 State universities and 150 other educational institutions having adopted the revised spelling in these twelve cases, with the result that now practically nobody is shocked at "thru," "catalog," etc. Full of enthusiasm in the cause the Board now dares greatly asking the public to adopt many new spellings, including:

Ruf, ruf, laf, cof, boro, furlo, gazet, bred, ded, hed, plesur, prolog, sinagog, eg, bel, wel, mil, scuf, dres, les, pur, bil, fil, wil, shal giv, hav, liv, wisht, cald, carrid, askt, fixt, brekfest, advanst, etc., etc.

Full of admiration for its own clipping and shearing, the Board asks confidently, "Why not?" The answer is easy. These skeletonized words do not recommend themselves because, like all skeletons, they are unsightly, and because what little is gained in space is far more than offset by the hideousness and resulting confusion to say nothing of the ultimate dimming and wiping out of the philologist's trails back to the original roots.

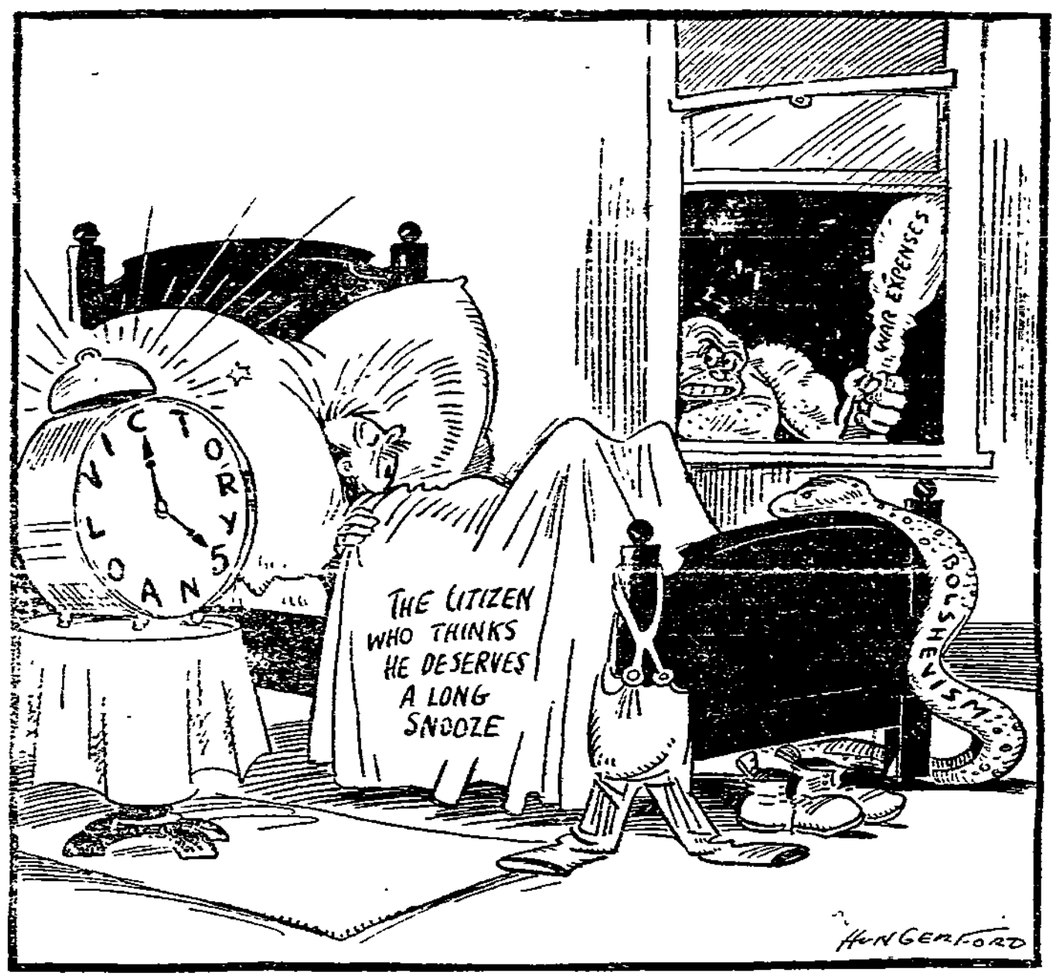
Wake Up!



In connection with the Salvation Army's rather unexpected campaign to raise $13,000,000 Cardinal Gibbons writes that "the man in need of help is the object of their effort, with never a question of his creed or color" Or his former business, it might have been added. From all accounts the Salvation Army does not stop at carrying doughnuts to doughboys on the very firing line; it wants to help every human creature, even trying to find jobs for former bar-tenders and brewery workers.

"Build now; own your own home for your children's sake," reads a poster issued by the United States Department of Labor. In view of the rent situation in the big cities, together with the frequent refusal to accept tenants with children, such official advice will be widely pondered. But many home seekers, after counting their savings, are likely to be inclined to await a decrease in the price of labor and the cost of building materials.

It is estimated that it would take England 400 years at $5 a second to pay off its war indebtedness. How many centuries it would take Germany at $5 a second to pay off its war indebtedness plus the great indemnity to be required is not stated, but the estimate ought to be staggering enough to dampen the enthusiasm of even those Prussians who contended that war is "beautiful" and desirable as well as necessary.

Some German educators have been expelled from Strassbourg and howling German professors in general are appealing to the fraternity of learning throughout the world. But it is not forgotten that these same professors looked on in approval when Louvain was sacked, its university devastated and its educators treated like dogs.

Mrs. Willis McCook, Jr., of Lock View was hostess Friday evening to fifty of the younger set of Lock Four. The evening was spent in dancing. At ten o'clock a sumptuous lunch was served.

Mrs. Joseph McGregor of Monongahela and Miss Margaret Rogers of Forge town, W. Va., were guests of Mrs. Earl Piper Friday evening and attended the Alpha Phi Beta dance.

Discovery of Rubber.

The rubber tree was discovered by a Jesuit missionary, Father Mancelde Esperanca. He found it while on one of his apostolic journeys among the Cambebas Indians of South America and gave it the singular name of the seringueria, because he remarked that the savages used the sap of this tree, which hardens quickly, to make rude bottles that were shaped like a syringe.

Speaking of Jawbreakers.

One is reminded by the word whose death is celebrated by Democritus (and which, by the way, in a civilized language is called "lese majeste") of another sesquipedalian term which has gone out of style. Canonicus tells us that "terminological inexactitudinarian" is the longer and prettier phrase that has been supplanted by a shorter and uglier word.

Edible Alarm Clock.

It was late in the afternoon when the Scotch minister arrived at the farmhouse. The housewife suggested that perhaps he would like a cup of tea before he began the "exercises." "Na, na," said he, "I aye tak my tea better when my work is done. You can put the pan on and leave the door ajar, an' I'll draw to a close in the prayer when I hear the haam fizzin'."

Real "Handy Man."

A Tasmanian jack of all trades claims that he is a hairdresser, tobacconist, cycle repairer, electrical certificated engineer, certificated marine engineer for the Derwent, organist and choirmaster, stencil cutter, fretworker, billiard hall keeper, proprietor circulating library, and is manager of the local town hall.

Long-Lived Clock.

The life of a clock is much longer than that of any other machinery. The city of Rouen has a great clock, built in the year 1389 and still keeping good time. Except for cleaning and a few necessary repairs it has never stopped during a period of more than five centuries. It strikes the hours and chimes the quarters.

Changed Cars.

A little girl was greatly pleased over the opportunity to accompany her mother on a visit to the city, where they spent a few days, and upon her return to her home she said: "Oh, daddy, we had such a nice time; we went in the sleeper and we came home in the sitter."

Gold Once Little Valued.

Rev. Dr. W. E. Griffis says that it is historically true that in early Japan there were houses roofed with gold. For centuries, he says, gold had little more value in Japan than in South America when Balboa sought the Pacific. Even until 1870 gold was worth only four times as much as silver.

Lava Warm After Thirty Years.

Newly ejected lava from Vesuvius has been tested and found to be at a temperature of 1,500 degrees Fahrenheit. On the volcano's slopes lavas from various outbursts are definitely isolated, and even now lava thrown out 80 years ago is quite warm.

Real Merit Manifest.

Real merit of any kind cannot long be concealed; it will be discovered, and nothing can depreciate it but a man's exhibiting it himself. It may not always be rewarded as it ought, but it will always be known.—Chesterfield.

PREPARING FOR AGGRESSIVE WORK

The Sunday school teachers of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church met Friday evening to plan for agggressive summer work. Dr. F. C. Stahlman, the superintendent, had invited the church session as honor guests and the program was inspiring. The address of the evening was given by Mr. Dean of Elrama, who is a Sunday school superintendent and who is also President of the Monongahela Sunday school district. Mr. Dean's address was on "The Teacher," seen from the superintendent's viewpoint and was much enjoyed.

Plans were made at the meeting last evening for sending delegates to the regional Young People's Conference. One conference in Pennsylvania is to be held at Pocono Pines and the other at Grove City. A social hour followed the program and lunch wasserved by the "Sewing Circle" of the church. The Washington Avenue Sunday school is fortunate in having so many trained teachers, having forty state graduates and twenty who hold international diplomas.

HEAVL PENALTIES FOR AUTOMOLIE THIEVES

The first measure enacted by the 1919 legislature to aid in suppressing the theft of automobiles approved by Governor Sproul on Friday provides severe penalties for stealing motor vehicles, for receiving or purchasing stolen machines. The act makes the offense of stealing automobiles or of receiving them a felony punishable by fine not to exceed $5.000 and by imprisonment not exceeding ten years.

World's Greatest Cataract.

What is set down as the greatest cataract in the world is on the Iguazu river, which partly separates Brazil and Argentina. The precipice over which the river plunges is 210 feet high, that of Niagara being 167 feet. The cataract is 13.123 feet wide, or about two and a half times as wide as Niagara. It is estimated that 100,000,000 tons of water pass over Niagara in an hour. A like estimate gives the falls of Iguazu 140,000,000 tons.

Ancient Place of Worship.

What is said to be the oldest place of continuous religious worship in the world is at Tai Shan, Shantung province, China. The place is near the town of Tainfu, and is located amidst cultivated fields on the bank of a small stream. A shrine was built over the spot many centuries ago, long before the coming of Christ. China claims an antiquity of 80,000 years.

Hadn't Changed.

One day a little boy came to the postoffice window asking for mail. The clerk inquired the lad's name and gave him some mail. The following day he again appeared asking for mail, but was not recognized by the busy clerk, who inquired, "Whose little boy are you?" And, the boy, looking trustfully up into her face, replied, "Why, I'm the same little boy I was yesterday."

French West Indian Islands.

Martinique is only one of the French West Indies. Its population of 185,000 slightly exceeds that of Guadeloupe, the second island of importance in the group. Besides Guadeloupe there are four other islands belonging to France in the West Indies, all closely connected with the mother country, and in all of which the population is 95 per cent black or colored.

Famous Martinique Women.

Josephine, ill-starred wife of Napoleon, was born in Martinique, and her statue, splendid and melancholy, dominates the public plaza, or Savanne, near the center of Fort de France. Here, too, was born Mme. de Maintenon the beautiful courtesan, whose influence on Louis XIV was responsible for one of the religious massacres during his reign.

Soldering Aluminum.

French manufacturers are the most successful in use of aluminum solder. They use it in proportions as follows: Zinc, 80 parts; copper, 8 parts; aluminum, 12 parts. For soldering aluminum by means of the ordinary soldering iron, 95 to 99 parts of tin are recommended to 5 to 8 parts of bismuth which makes an ordinary soft solder.

Water-Proof Match.

A new safety match which is claimed to be wind-proof and water proof will be especially useful in modern warfare. It will burn five seconds in the face of a strong wind, and when it goes out it will not start a fire, no matter where it is thrown.

SPECIAL BADGES WERE RECEIVED

Special badges for members of the "Five Hundred Club" in the Victory Liberty loan were received this morning by Dr. Hetrick and will be delivered to subscribers through the banks in which their subscriptions are placed. Seventy-five citizens of the community have already qualified, having taken out 185 memberships, each $500 subscribed entitling each one to a membership. The work of solicitation will continue with greater activity during the closing days of the campaign, and Dr. Hetrick, chairman, expects to enroll all former members of this organization.

FORMER CHARLEROI GIRL MARRIED IN RAVENNA, O

The Ravenna O, Republican in its issue of the 28th of April contained a notice of the marriage of a former Charleroi girl, Miss Georgene Arnold Parsons, daughter of the late B. L. Parsons, to Abner E. Mitchell. The ceremony was performed Friday, April 25, at 9:30 a. m., by the Rev. C. H. Wilson, pastor of the First Christian church of Ravenna. The wedding took place in the east parlor of the Western Reserve Htel, in the presence of a few immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom, the ring ceremony being used. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell left for the groom's former home in Skowhegan, Maine, where they will spend about ten days. After their return to Ravenna they will take rooms at the Western Reserve Hotel until their home on North Walnut street in that city is ready for them. The bride prior to her marriage was employed at the Ravenna Rubber Works, while Mr. Mitchell is buyer for the Ravenna Worsted Mills.

SAYS COST IS IN EXCESS OF FUNDS

County Controller T. J. Underwood, in a communication sent to the county cimmissioners, on Friday, explains why he refused to advertise for bids for the construction of certain roads. He avers the commissioners are not within the law in their proposition, as they proposed to make expenditures beyond the levy. The controller says hehas no objections to any of the roads being built, but avers the amount proposed to be expended is in excess of the money available for the purpose. The roads are as follows: Martindale-Thompson Hill; Avella-Cross Creek; McMurray; Bulger-Burgettstown; Midway-Primrose and a street in West Alexander.

The controller then gives an estimate of the cost of the construction of these roads, which have a total mileage of 7.02 miles. He estimates it at $32,000 per mile, with a total of $234,640 for all. There is still due on the Claysville-Burnsville road $16,500, making a total of $241,140 that would be necessary. The balance in the bond account, including this year's issue, is $177,359.55. According to the controller it would take $63,780.45 over the amount available to construct these roads.

AURORA BOREALIS VISIBLE LAST NIGHT

The aurora borealis was visible last night, making its appearance in the northern heavens shortly before 10 o'clock. The path of light was clearly marked and very pronounced. The display reached its greatest brilliancy about midnight.

Prof. and Mrs. I. T. Daniel were in Monongahela last evening and attended the Oratrio Society concert, in the First Presbyterian church, at which timethe "Holy City" was rendered.

And Not One Broken Egg

Nothing quite so strikingly demonstrates the resilience and cushioning properties of GOODRICH DE LUXE Truck Tires as a recent 32-mile trip from a New Jersey farm to New York by a motor truck carrying 800 dozen eggs.

Riding on these deep, broad-shouldered treads this truck, despite "chuck holes," reached Gotham without so much as a single egg being broken!

Such performance justifies the selection by large cartage companies of these burly cushions as the best insurance for fragile materials and valuable cargo in transit.

Because DE LUXE resilience measured with DE LUXE durability makes these tires the most economical tire investment procurable.

Let us give you further facts and figures.

Dead Devil Dog?---Not Yet!

"THE LAST STAND" might be an appropriate title for this picture which shows a fallen Marine with his comrade beside him, continuing to work a German light Maxim machine gun in an advanced position.

This machine gun is one captured by the Marines from the Germans at Chateau Thierry. Guns of this type were used by the Germans in ambushing the allied troops. They were particularly deadly because they can be easily carried by one man and set up almost anywhere with or without a tripod. The gunner in this picture is also wearing a captured German helmet.

The two Marines who posed for this picture are part of the detachment of the renowned "Devil Dogs" in command of Captain Shafer Ladd who are traveling through the Fourth Federal Reserve District with War Trophy Train No 3.

Captain Ladd and his men have all tasted German gas and high explosive at Soissons, St. Mihiel, Belleau Woods and Chateau Thierry and are prepared to tell some startling truths about what the Allies saved civilization from when they forced the Huns to beg for an armistice.

These men know why the Victory Loan must go over in a big way and they are able to back up their statements with exhibits gathered from many battle fronts. They know the job back here must be finished and they're willing to help finish it.

Just Missed Perfection.

When Mrs. Langtry was at the summit of her beauty and fame she met at a dinner an African king who was visiting London. She did her best to please the dusky monarch and evidently succeeded, for he said to her as they parted: "Ah, madam, if heaven had only made you black and fat you would be irresistible."

Dire Day in Russian History.

November 30 is the anniversary of the defeat of Peter the Great in 1700 by Charles XII of Sweden. The Russian monarch had 40,000 troops against the 8,000 of his opponent, but the superior generalship of the Swede more than balanced the numerical superiority of the czar.

Eraser Hint.

When the eraser becomes well worn it is apt to smear the paper when it is used to erase a letter. To avoid this, simply rub a little chalk on the edge of the eraser and no smear will occur; and the erasure of the letter will be done much more quickly as well as more neatly.

Doing Well.

Pat was digging at his field, which turned out a very rough piece of land. A policeman, looking over the gate, inquired whether he would get any potatoes off it this season. "Well," replied Pat, rather cheerfully, "I have 50 stones out up to the present."

Clocks That Speak.

Clocks without hands or faces are now common in Switzerland. The timepiece stands in the hall, and, when a button is pressed, by means of phonographic arrangements it calls out "Half-past five" or Five minutes to nine," as the case may be.

Versatile Nut Tree.

In addition to nuts used in confectionery the Indian cashew tree yields an insect-repelling gum, a juice that makes an indelible ink and three kinds of oil, one edible and the others used to tan fishing nets and preserve wood.

Golden Deed.

Phillips Brooks said: "He who helps a child helps humanity with a distinctness, an immediateness, which no other help given in any other stage of human life can possibly give."

Foundation of All.

All government, indeed every human benefit and enjoyment, every virtue, every prudent act, is founded on compromise and barter.—Burke.

Makes Some Difference.

Corrections made recently in maps of Greenland have shown it to be about 150,000 square miles larger than formerly believed.

Devil Dogs Coming To Aid Victory Loan Drive

Thousands of small boys who have previously desired to be clowns, bareback riders or railroad engineers are expected to center all their ambition on being Marines, after they see the detachment of Devil-Dogs who will travel through the Fourth Federal Reserve District during the Victory Loan staging a sham battle and bayonet drill at every stop.

These Marines, fresh from the overseas station at Quantico, are experts in the bayonet tactics which made them so feared by the Huns after the battle at Chateau Thierry.

The sham battle the Marines stage is no pink tea, slap-on-the-wrist affair, but a snappy give-and-take struggle in which not infrequently the participants draw blood.

One feature of the bayonet exhibition they will give daily, is a realistic struggle between one Marine unarmed and another wielding rifle and bayonet.

One Reason Girls Steal.

This bit of philosophy of a reformed girl thief was contained in an article in the People's Home Journal on the value of the probation law: "A girl can no more live without a few pleasures and pretty possessions than she can without food. Take it from me, girls don't want to steal. If they knew how to earn things for themselves, they wouldn't be bad. Some day there'll be a way found for girls to earn what they need before they get into trouble, not after. Then the whole world'll be different."

Don't Tease Child.

Teasing has ruined the disposition of many a child. The parents are not likely to be guilty of such conduct, but older children in the family, or some other relative, may make the child's life utterly miserable by constant teasing. A thoughtless adult, intending to be playful, will keep a child struggling for some object, almost allowing him to get it over and over again, only to thwart the child's purpose, and so causing a wearing irritation.

The Hornpipe.

The "hornpipe" is an old English dance peculiar to England. In fact, one might almost say it was the chief dance of the British sailor, and is still. Modern "hornpipes" are in common time and of a more lively character than the ancient form. It is supposed to have received its name from the instrument which was played during its performance.

Goodness.

I think that most of my readers will agree with me that, notwithstanding the all-prevalent evil which in a thousand shapes haunts the footsteps of our race, good is still the mightiest power in the world, and, if its aimless strength could be concentrated and directed, would go far towards effecting a reformation of the world.—Sir H. Rider Haggard.

Good Explanation.

After looking over a vacant house with his parents, Willie, aged six, heard them discussing the rooms. All the rooms were immense and rather dark, with the exception of the dining room, which was very small and naturally lighter than the others. Willie said: "Yes, I guess the dining room was the lightest because it was closest to the windows."

Chance for Trade in Japan.

The native Japanese door slides on a rail or track, and is said to answer all purposes, but despite the fact that the scheme is perfectly satisfactory the importation of door hinges is increasing. The Japanese are very ready to adopt almost any of the methods or implements which come from the western world.

Removing Ink Stains.

To remove black ink stains, the article should be washed immediately in several waters and then in milk, letting it soak in the milk for several hours; the stain will disappear. Washing the article immediately in vinegar and water, then in soap and water, will remove all ordinary ink stains.

Passed Away.

Notice in a country store—"We regret to inform our honored customers that our good and generous friend, Mr. Credit, expired today. He was a noble soul, always willing and helpful, but has been failing for some time. May he rest in peace. Pay cash."—Boston Transcript.

Beginning of Pittsburgh.

November 25 is the anniversary of the raising of the English flag over the ruins of Fort Duquesne in 1754. The place was then named Pittsburgh in honor of Britain's famous prime minister. It owes its great growth to its proximity to coal and iron fields of vast magnitude.

War Veteran Band Leader Isn't Fussy About His Locale

Lieut. T. W. James

The leader of the famous Great War Veterans' Band of Ottawa, Canada, which is to make a tour of the Fourth Federal Reserve District on behalf of the Victory Loan campaign, does not need a band stand, lights and music racks for all his men in order to give a concert.

He has led his men through machine gun, shrapnel and high explosive fire in France and says that any inconveniences his band may encounter at cross road stops on the tour will be like luxury compared to playing in the field.

The leader is Lieut. T. W. James. Lieut. James took the first Canadian band to France in 1914. Later he organized a band whose first assignment was to play Canadian music to welcome the Princess Patrician Canadian Light Infantry to the Canadian lines near Ploegstraet. The concert was held according to schedule and was a success in spite of the absence of either lights, band stand or sheet music.

Canvas of Business Men Shows Victory Loan Cannot Fail

BY CARTER GLASS.

With a view to determining the terms of the Victory Liberty Loan it has been my duty to inform myself not only concerning the surface conditions, which should be obvious to you businessmen and to every well informed American, but also concerning the undercurrents affecting our financial and industrial welfare and which bear directly and indirectly upon the Victory Liberty Loan.

I have been engaged, with the aid of the best minds at my disposal—and they include the members of the great War Loan Organization both at the Treasury in Washington and throughout the country which has so successfully and brilliantly supported the Treasury of the United States throughout the period of active warfare—in the study of those conditions and I am glad indeed to be able to write that as a result of that study I take a very optimistic view of the prospect for the Victory Liberty Loan and of the future of this country.

Get on Right Road at Once.

It often requires courage to turn back when we have taken a wrong step, but it is easier to turn back after the first than after the second or third, and much safer and pleasanter.
